| Description   |                         |
| We can now use a different database host, user and name in Rudder, but we need documentation to explain how to achieve it.           |                         |
| This allows for instance to use the same database server for several Rudder servers.   |                         |
